Welcome to The Little House

Hello and a warm welcome!

We are Nick and Jane, your hosts, and we're delighted to have you stay at The Little House. Please follow us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/thelittlehouseinruralsurrey and Instagram at www.instagram.com/thelittlehouseinruralsurrey for news, late availability information and direct bookings.

This area is truly special, with so much to see and do, and we hope you'll enjoy it as much as we do. Jane was born and raised here, while Nick is a relative newcomer having only lived here for 43 years!. With our combined local knowledge, we're more than happy to help you make the most of your stay with tips and recommendations.

This guide is packed with useful information to ensure you have a comfortable and enjoyable time. In fact there is so much for you to do you just may need to come back for another stay.

About the Little House - Your Home from Home

Sitting Room & Kitchen

Enter The Little House through the patio doors, leading into a welcoming open-plan kitchen and living area.

The sitting room is a cosy space designed for relaxation, featuring:

- A wood-burning stove, perfect for warmth and atmosphere. Logs, kindling, and firelighters are provided, and a QR code links to a video of Nick demonstrating how best to light and maintain the stove. There are also laminated instructions or, if you prefer, just ask if you would like assistance. Additional logs and kindling are located in a black box in the parking area.
- Underfloor heating throughout, keeping things warm whatever the season.
- A 43" smart TV (instructions below).
- A unique live screen monitor to watch the fascinating activities of the nearby badger setts.
- A comfy sofa and armchair, perfect for unwinding.
- Board games (in the right-hand drawer of the TV stand).
- Guides and reading material (in the bookcase).
- There is a dining table and chairs for relaxed meals which could equally be used as a work space should need be. There are handy plug sockets nearby and a WIFI speed of approximately 50 Mbps.
- Roberts DAB radio and bluetooth speaker
- Binoculars for wildlife spotting.

The kitchen is fully equipped to prepare anything from a light snack to a full meal. You'll find:

- A gas hob, electric oven, microwave, SMEG toaster and kettle, stick blender, electric milk frother for special coffees or decadent hot chocolates and slow cooker (ideal for a meal ready when you return from a busy day out).
- A picnic hamper and thermos for your outdoor adventures.
- All the essential kitchen utensils, cutlery, and china.
- Basic provisions, including tea, coffee, hot chocolate, sugar, oil, salt, and pepper.

To make you feel at home, we also provide a starter welcome pack with locally sourced goodies, including milk, bread, butter, and freshly laid eggs from our resident chickens.

For longer stays, there is also a washing machine, tumble dryer, and freezer available in a separate building, which also provides secure storage and charging for e-bikes.

Bedroom

Your cosy bedroom features a double bed (4ft 6ins) with a new mattress and topper, dressed in 100% cotton linen for a restful night's sleep, and towelling robes to relax in. There are bedside tables with USB plugs conveniently located below for charging your devices.

A wardrobe provides space to store your belongings and also contains a hairdryer, iron, and ironing board for your convenience. In the summer we provide bedside fans and an additional tower fan is available if needed.

For added comfort, the bedroom has electric Velux windows with blackout blinds and automatic-close rain sensors for a peaceful night. The controls are located between the full-length mirror and the wardrobe.

Shower Room

The compact yet well-appointed shower room is designed for a luxurious and relaxing stay. It includes:

- A toilet, basin, and shower.
- A heated towel rail to keep towels warm and fluffy.
- An illuminated touch vanity mirror.
- Complimentary luxury vegan and cruelty free shower gel, shampoo, and conditioner, plus a few extra little touches to make your stay even more special.
- Please take care to only flush toilet paper into the loo; we have a septic tank. Anything else (wipes, sanitary products) must go in the bin.

Outside Space

The Little House is tucked away in the landscaped and illuminated gardens of Heather Farm, accessed via a 250m unmade track. As you arrive, you'll find your own private driveway with parking for two cars, meaning no need to struggle with your luggage!

Step through the little gateway into your enclosed garden, designed as a peaceful retreat. You can relax on the patio or veranda, enjoy a BBQ, and watch the birds visiting the feeders, and toast marshmallows over the firepit (there are toasting forks in the kitchen drawer). The veranda, illuminated by festoon lights, is a place for an atmospheric evening drink after a busy day exploring (to turn these on there is a switch just above the key safe on the side of the cottage as you step onto the patio).

From your private garden you are welcome to step through the garden gate to enjoy the rest of the property.

Adjacent to The Little House are the formal gardens with a rill water feature where you can enjoy the relaxing sounds of the water, magical both in daylight and equally special after dark when it is illuminated.

In the wild flower meadow and orchard you will find the wildlife pond where the bench is a perfect place for a morning coffee or an evening glass of wine. Take time to feed the fish and watch the dragonflies during the summer months..

Visit the ducks and chickens and watch their hilarious antics. They will greatly appreciate any kitchen scraps that you may have to offer, but under the kitchen sink you will find chicken food, as well as fish food to share.

Follow the arrows directing you along the paths through the fields, where you may see our equine residents Saucy and Minty, who are always inquisitive to meet visitors. The route then takes you through our son Tom's wood yard and you will begin to understand why we are happy to offer you an unlimited supply of logs for the wood burner and fire pit! The path then leads you through the wood (did you spot the bee hives as you passed?) to a little gate and there you have direct access to thousands of acres of common land for you to explore, with not a road to cross.

What not to Pack

We aim to make your holiday as easy and carefree as possible, giving you time to relax in nature and be fully refreshed. Please note what you don't need to bring, so the relaxation can start even sooner! We want The Little House to be a proper home from home.

For personal care

- Hairdryer & Hair Straighteners
- Big fluffy towels, flannels and towelling robes
- Soap, shampoo, shower gel and conditioner

For the Kitchen

- Washing up liquid, surface cleaner, tea towels
- Your first few rounds of hot drinks, instant and decaf coffee, ground coffee, tea, herbal teas, hot chocolate
- Salt, pepper, oil, vinegar, some herbs and spices
- Cling film, tin foil, parchment paper, bin bags, kitchen roll
- Individual ketchup, HP sauce and mustard
- Thermos and insulated cups
- Tupperware
- Cooler bag and freezer blocks for away days and picnics
- Shopping bags
- Matches, firelighters, kindling and logs

For entertainment

- OS maps of the local area
- Leaflets of local attractions, menus
- Board games and cards
- Digital radio & Bluetooth speaker
- Umbrellas

For Dogs

- Bowls
- Water bottle
- Spare lead
- Towels
- Throws to protect the furniture
- Balls and toys
- Drying mitt

Other things NOT to pack: Worries, big or small. Guilt about doing absolutely nothing. A suitcase full of stress. A mental list of things you 'should' be doing. That feeling you've forgotten something important when you haven't. All deadlines, expectations and anything labelled 'urgent'.

The Badgers of Heather Farm

One of the unique features of your stay at The Little House is the chance to observe a badger sett in its natural habitat. These nocturnal creatures have been living here for generations, and with a bit of patience, you should be lucky enough to see some of them!

About the Badgers

When we first set up the badger cameras, we were able to recognise three regular residents, whom our grandson named Bob, Susie, and Jimmy. However, Jimmy surprised us when she emerged the following spring with cubs in tow!

Nowadays, with adolescents joining the group and visitors from neighbouring setts, it's not always easy to tell who's who.

Jimmy is the exception, as at some point she has lost an ear, making her easily identified.

She also appears to be the matriarch of the sett, and if you visit in the spring, you may be lucky enough to see her with cubs.

Watching them frolic and play is truly a sight to behold!

Depending on the time of year you visit:

- Spring & Summer – The badgers are most active, often emerging just after dusk. Cubs are likely to emerge in March/April.
- Autumn & Winter – Badgers don't hibernate, but they do enter a state of torpor, meaning they will emerge to be fed but only stay out for shorter periods in the colder months.

Live Badger Cam

For a closer look, we have a live badger camera feed inside The Little House:

- To switch to the Badger Cam, use the toggle button behind the Badger Sett TV.
- A mouse is provided to zoom in and navigate between four different camera views.
- Double-click to switch between single and multi-screen mode.
- To return to Sky TV, press the toggle button again.

Seeing Badgers in Person 🐾

- Best Viewing Times: Around dusk or just before dawn
- Where to Look: You might spot them from the garden as they forage for food
- Stay Quiet: Badgers are shy and will disappear if they hear movement
- Their eye sight is poor but they have a good sense of smell so avoid wearing any strong perfumes. Wear dark clothing.
- No Feeding: Please don't be tempted to feed them.
- For a more direct outdoor badger experience you can see the badgers emerge and feed in person by arrangement - please contact Jane

Fun Badger Facts

1. Badgers in the wild can live for as long as 15 years
2. Badgers have a well developed sense of smell and sound, but have limited sense of sight
3. During the autumn, badgers feeding activity increases to accumulate body fat reserves for the winter
4. Badger fur is quite coarse and not fine like fox or rabbit fur. The hairs are oval in cross section, not round. This means if you roll a badger hair between your thumb and finger it does not roll smoothly
5. Badgers live in underground burrows known as setts. These may be used for centuries, housing many generations of badgers
6. The largest sett in Britain was found to extend to an area 15 by 35 metres and had 12 entrances. A sett usually houses around 6 badgers
7. Badgers take pride in their home. They won't generally bring food inside the sett, and won't use any part of it as a toilet
8. There are conflicting claims where the name 'badger' came from 1. Derived from the French 'becheur', meaning digger. 2. Comes from the distinctive striped head which looks like a badge. Interestingly the welsh word for badger is 'mochyn daear' which literally translated means 'earth pig'

We are members of the Badger Trust and take our responsibilities as custodians of these ancient badger setts and the well being of the resident badgers very seriously.

Where to Enjoy the Countryside

Before setting off on your countryside adventures, there are a couple of handy free apps that you might like to download if you don't already have them:

AllTrail

Is a fantastic resource for discovering walking and cycling routes tailored to your preferences.

Whether you're seeking dog-friendly paths, family-friendly strolls, or more challenging hikes, AllTrails has you covered. With detailed trail maps, user reviews, and the ability to download maps for offline use, it ensures you stay on track and make the most of your outings. The basic version is free. If you follow Jane on the app you will find all are curated walks there for you to enjoy.

Merlin Bird ID

For nature enthusiasts and budding birdwatchers, Merlin Bird ID is an indispensable companion. Developed by the Cornell Lab of Ornithology, this free app helps you identify birds.

You can simply press record and it will identify bird-songs around you OR by answering a few questions or uploading a photo the bird can be identified. This will enhance your ability to recognize and appreciate the avian life around you. You'll be amazed at the numbers and variety around you.

Don't forget to take a power pack for your phone in case you lose battery life. Happy exploring!

Local Walks

We provide laminated maps of local walks that we think that you may enjoy..They vary from a gentle leg stretch to a full on hike, the choice is yours If you prefer you can follow the routes on the AllTrail app.

Devil's Punch Bowl - just a step through the gate

Right on your doorstep, the Devil's Punch Bowl is a stunning natural amphitheatre set in nearly 700 acres. With marked trails winding through open heathland and lush woodlands, it's a treat for both walkers and cyclists. The Punch Bowl Loop is a favourite, offering breathtaking panoramic views that includes on a clear day the skyline of London some 38 miles away

The Legend

According to the Punchbowl legend, the Devil, who seems to have been pretty active in this area, would torment Thor, the God of Thunder by jumping from hill to hill (The Devil's Jumps) When Thor, who lived nearby at Thor's Lie (Thursley), tried to strike the Devil with thunder and lightning, the Devil retaliated by scooping up a handful of earth and hurling it at Thor. The depression that remains is the Devil's Punchbowl.

The History

The byway which leads from the main car park follows the route of the original London to Portsmouth Road. It is steeped in history with many tales of highwaymen preying on sailors as they walked this route. In 1786 a sailor on his way to the Portsmouth Docks was brutally murdered by three villainous highwaymen who were then tried and hung on Gibbet Hill as a warning to other criminals. A stone was erected to mark the spot where the poor sailor met his death After the hangings fears and superstitions arose around the area. So in 1851 a Celtic cross was erected on Gibbet Hill to banish help these fears

Your challenge is to see if you can find both the stone and cross on one of your excursions

If you walk from the Little House don't forget to take your wallet in case you want to stop for a coffee at the National Trust cafe.

Thursley Common Boardwalk 3.9 miles

Just a short jaunt away near Elstead, you'll find the Thursley Common boardwalk.

This charming path takes you through restored wetlands and heathlands. It's no wonder it was voted Britain's Favourite Path by The Ramblers in 2024! Why not combine this walk with a visit to Little Barn Cafe or The Mill at Elstead.

Frensham Ponds 4.9 miles

The loop around the ponds provides tranquil views of the water and surrounding landscapes, making it a lovely spot for a leisurely walk or cycle.

A popular spot for a picnic as it claims to be the nearest beach to London. Little Pond is the home of a pair of swans that locals have named Syd and Sally. Will you see them when you visit?

For another not to be missed walk, park at the Little Ponds car park and take the footpath to the river Wey. Cross the wooden bridge, watch out for kingfishers, and head for the Farnham Brewing Company. - check limited opening times.

A micro brewery nestling alongside a working farm with several other small craft businesses including Cheese on the Wey, at the beautiful Pierrepont Farm. Make this a longer walk by keeping going towards Bourne Woods and you can circle back towards the green at Tilford. By then you must surely be in need of another pit stop at the Barley Mow or Little Latte?

There are also cafes and loos at both ponds.

Waggoners Wells 4.6 miles

A series of enchanting man-made ponds surrounded by ancient woodlands, Waggoners Wells is immersed in history and natural beauty. The peaceful paths here are perfect for a gentle stroll, and a great place for you to see some local wildlife. On a hot summer's day the dappled shade from the trees offer a cooler place to walk.

Don't forget to follow the track down to the Wishing Well fed by a natural spring to make a wish. It is said that this is where Lord Tennyson composed 'The Flower in a Crannied Wall' in 1863.

Nearby Applegarth Farm Shop is conveniently placed for a coffee, lunch and more. Or why not combine a visit to the hidden gem Lovingly Baked by Anthea and then walk down to the Waggoners Wells.

Alice Holt Forest 7.7 miles

Alice Holt Forest offers a family-friendly cycle route through dense woodlands, suitable for cyclists of all ages. With walking trails, picnic spots, and a cosy café, it's an ideal destination for a day out with loved ones. For the athletic and those with a head for heights there is Go Ape which is a treetop experience.

Hankley and Bourne Woods

These woodlands have played host to numerous film productions, including scenes from the James Bond and Marvel franchises.

Exploring the trails here offers not only a chance to enjoy the natural beauty but also to spot familiar locations from the big screen. Hankley's rugged beauty was a convincing Scottish background in the James Bond film Skyfall.

It should be noted that Hankley is a MOD training ground and occasionally there may be path restrictions

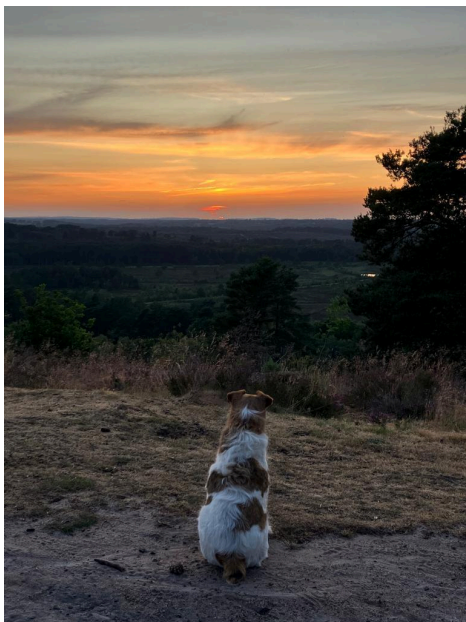

The Flashes 2.2 miles

Another circular walk in the lee of the Devil's Jumps, Churt Common, known locally as the Flashes is an area of about 260 acres of heathland and bog.

Heathland is actually very rare, although hard to believe as we are blessed with so much in this area, so this area of a combination of both heath and bog is particularly rare. The shallow Axe pond with its dark water is particularly pretty with water lilies and rhododendrons in the late spring. Park in Sandy Lane or by the Bel and Dragon for the start of this ramble.

The Devils Jump 1.1 miles

This series of three prominent sandstone hills—known as Stony Jump, Middle Jump, and High Jump—offers walkers a blend of scenic landscapes and a touch of local folklore. According to local tales, the devil used these hills to leap across the landscape, leaving the mounds as his jumps. Park by the Bel and Dragon and climb the nearby footpath to the summit. There you are able to look down over the Flashes below, with far reaching views towards Farnham Castle. It's a perfect romantic place to watch the sun going down so why not pack up a flask of hot chocolate or a bottle of wine and enjoy the view.

As you can see, it is one of Fig's favourite spots

Further Afield Walks

Butser Hill 22 miles

As the highest point in the South Downs National Park, Butser Hill offers expansive views of the coast and surrounding countryside. A climb to the summit is well worth the effort, rewarding you with panoramic vistas to the coast that are simply unforgettable.

Basingstoke Canal 17 miles

The Basingstoke Canal features scenic towpath routes, ideal for both walking and cycling. As you meander along the canal, you'll pass through charming villages, historic locks, Odiham Castle and perhaps catch a glimpse of heron and kingfishers. A good place to start is Greywell conveniently by the Fox and Goose pub.

A year at The Little House

Life at The Little House moves with the seasons, each one bringing its own moments that make you stop and smile.

Spring arrives quietly, with bluebells spreading through the woods turning them blue along with the scent of wild garlic in the air. Gorse blazes gold on the heath and celandine brightens the verges.

Lambs wobble about in the nearby fields and you will hear the first woodpecker start rhythmically tapping in the trees.

Frogspawn fills the pond, soon alive with wriggling tadpoles and, if you're lucky, you might catch a first sighting of badger or fox cubs as they emerge from their setts for the first time.

Rabbits dart through the meadow like a scene from Watership Down.

Deer wander down for an evening drink from the pond while a heron stands perfectly still on the bank.

The swallows return to their nests in the stables, swooping in and out as if they never left.

The hens gossip away, pecking and scratching, while Frank the runner duck keeps everyone in line.

Bees from our hives wake up with purpose, already nosing through the blossom. Everything feels new, green and full of promise.

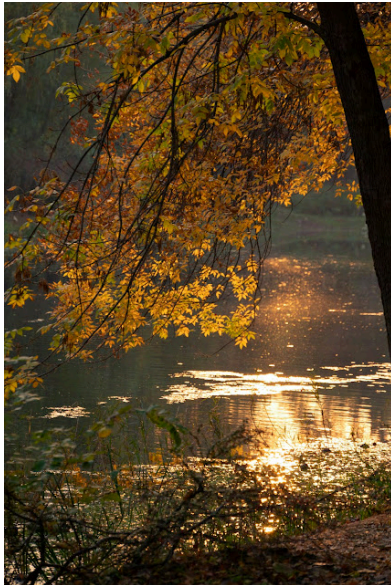

Summer settles in warmly, long warm days hum with life.

Dragonflies skim across the pond, butterflies drift between flowers, and bats swoop low once the sun goes down. The air fills with the chatter of the swallows swooping low across the pond. Bright white doves take to the sky in neat formation each morning before gliding low over the rill. Red kites and buzzards circle high above, their calls carrying across the fields. Heather paints the heath at Hankley and Frensham a purple hue.

The grass smells sweet after mowing and the borders are full of colour, alive with honeybees. Fig will find a quiet corner to bask in the sun. Elderflowers are ready for cordial-making while the horses, Saucy and Minty, linger in the shade. The meadow flowers shifts gently in the breeze. Mornings are perfect for breakfast outside, and evenings often end beside the pond, watching the heron drop in for one last visit.

Autumn brings a soft glow, as the woods turn gold and the orchard grows heavy with apples and pears. The hedges around the paddocks fill with blackberries, ideal for eating as you walk or for turning into crumbles and jam for your hamper.

Parasol mushrooms appear, sweet chestnuts fall, perfect for roasting, and sloes ripen in the hedgerows. Badgers grow busier as the nights draw in. Tawny owls call to one another from their roost in the oak in the garden and the woods. The male's deep "hoo" is met by the female's sharp "keewic", creating that familiar "twit twoo." The swallows gather with their new brood, chattering overhead before heading back to Africa. Frank still patrols as if winter isn't on its way, herding the hens and other ducks with quiet determination. It's a time for walking through crunching leaves, gathering fruit for crumbles, and lighting the first fire of the season.

Winter slows everything down. Frost settles on the fields and ice forms delicate patterns on the pond.

Deer tracks criss-cross the garden and robins appear as soon as you top up the feeders. Holly berries glow red, ready for Christmas decorations. The hens mutter softly as they pick their way across the cold ground while Frank continues his rounds, quacking his orders. On snowy days, the fields become a perfect sledging run, followed by hot chocolate and marshmallows by the fire pit. The nights grow still and star-lit, broken only by the distant call of tawny owls deep in the trees.

A year at The Little House is full of small wonders, the sort that stay with you long after you've gone home.

Our Story

Who would have thought that a tiny advert in a local paper would change our story forever?

Back in 1983, we moved into a little cottage in the village as newlyweds, full of dreams, slightly daunted, but endlessly optimistic.

Then one day in 1990, we spotted a tiny advert in the local paper for an auction happening the very next day. With no real plan and two young children in tow, we naively bundled everyone into the car, drove just a few miles down the road. Almost by accident we became the new owners of a rather sorry-looking patch of fields and woodland. It was wild, overgrown and completely neglected, but we loved it.

We'd always dreamed of having a place where our children could roam free, build dens, and get muddy knees. Somewhere we could keep a few animals, grow things, and live a little closer to nature. Over the years we dug out wildlife ponds, planted orchards for our bees, and gradually turned this forgotten bit of land into a haven, one that we've shared with our ever-growing menagerie and endless wildlife.

Then came lockdown and our chance to build. With the help of a brilliant team (and, to be honest, a fair bit of head-scratching), we started to create our forever home and The Little House beside it, where our son has lived while he saved for his own home. It felt a bit like being in an episode of Grand Designs, except in our version, no one got divorced, no one got pregnant, and even the windows turned up when they were supposed to.

And now, after all those years of hard work, we feel so incredibly lucky to be here. Every morning the views still take our breath away. We know how rare it is to find a place like this and now, in our retirement, we're so glad we can finally share it.

For Our Four-Legged Guests 🐾

Fig, chief greeter, stick chaser and general good boy at The Little House

We're delighted to welcome one well-behaved small or medium sized dog to The Little House. Please make sure you click on the booking form so we know to expect him\her and can prepare for their visit.

Fig, our elderly terrier, also extends a warm welcome—though he's probably a little too old now to join in any canine games with visitors.

Dog-Friendly Features

- Private Enclosed Garden – A safe space for your dog to enjoy.
- Dog Waste Bin & Bags – Provided for easy clean-up.
- Dog Essentials Provided – We offer a box with bowls, towels, poo bags, drying mitt and the odd treat to help your pup feel at home.
- Outdoor Hose – Perfect for washing away the evidence of a day spent exploring the countryside.
- Nearby Walks – direct access to thousands of acres of common land, not a road to cross.

House Rules for Dogs

 On a Lead at All Times (Except in the Little House Garden) – Due to livestock and wildlife, please keep dogs on a lead when outside the enclosed garden.

 No Dogs Left Unattended – Please do not leave your dog alone in The Little House or garden. We can recommend a dog sitter if that would be helpful

 Furniture & Beds – While we kindly request that dogs stay off the furniture, we are realistic and provide paw print throw covers—just in case!
