ENJOYING THE GLACIER

The Kitzsteinhorn is more than just a glacier. It is a legend and the first glacier ski resort in Austria. At an altitude of over 3,000 metres above sea level, you will experience an incomparable feeling of freedom and endless possibilities for enjoying nature and sports.

Surrounded by the highest peaks in the country, a world of mountains and ice opens up and displays its most powerful side. Vast, spectacular and with a metre-thick cover of natural snow, a high alpine snow adventure awaits you here from autumn to early summer. The panorama platform "Top of Salzburg" can be easily reached directly from the centre of Kaprun via the Maiskogel with the ultra-modern 3K K-connection cable car. Crossing four climate zones, you will climb more than 2,261 metres in altitude until you reach the highest point in Salzburg that is accessible to everyone.

The Kitzsteinhorn and the Maiskogel inspire skiers with ski-in ski-out directly from the village and the Kaprun Center, including lower terminus, ticket offices, ski depot and sports shop. The comfortable slopes of the Maiskogel and the high alpine glacier ski resort on the Kitzsteinhorn represent a fascinating unit. The pistes on the Maiskogel are just waiting to be discovered and especially invite families to endless fun on the pistes. Activity enthusiasts of all ages love the Maisi Park with wave runs, banked curves and small jumps. On the glacier, three world-class snow parks, including Austria's finest superpipe and five clearly signposted freeride routes, offer plenty of variety. The Freeride Info Base informs you about all routes and the avalanche situation and provides important equipment tips. On perfectly groomed pistes between 2,000 and 3,029 metres above sea level, you can enjoy your turns on wide glacier slopes, while the kids let off steam on the "Eagle Line" fun line, and alpine skiers ensure good workout for their thighs on the black "Black Mamba" run with a 63 % gradient.

PANORAMA MOUNTAIN & SKI PARADISE: THE SCHMITTEN- HÖHE

THREE-THOUSAND-METRES-HIGH PEAKS

SCHMITTENHÖHE

The Schmittenhöhe is the panorama and family ski resort in Zell am See-Kaprun. Five long downhill runs and an imperial mountain panorama await you here.

Highlights for the kids include Schmidolin's Dragon Park and the Kidslope. The cool green dragon "Schmidolin" teaches children how to ski. There is also a whole world of fun with wave runs, archways and short tunnels as well as one of the longest fun slopes in the world. The annual events "Schmidolin's Olympics" and "Schmidolin's Ski Day" are unforgettable experiences for the youngest.

In total, there are six lifts from the valley: the areitXpress in Schüttdorf, the zellamseeXpress in Glemmtal and the cityXpress directly in the centre of Zell am See. From the Schmittenthal valley, the trassXpress and the exclusive Porsche Design gondola will take you uphill to 1,965 metres, from where you can admire the surrounding 30 (!) three-thousand-metres-high peaks of the Hohe Tauern with a 360° panoramic view. Even Empress Sisi enjoyed this place of strength! The Elisabeth Chapel was built on this spot in her honour in 1908. The ski resort is also known for its alpine culinary delights with sensational mountain restaurants and various gourmet stations.

A WIDE RANGE OF PISTES FOR EVERYONE
Beginners enjoy the family pistes, while experts carve downhill on challenging runs such as "Standard" and "Trass". The "Trass" is one of the five long downhill runs to the valley. With a difference in altitude of 1,000 metres and a gradient of 70 %, it is also a big challenge. Thanks to the diverse range of pistes on the Schmittenhöhe, you will find blue, red and black pistes for every taste and every level. If you still haven't had enough of the magic of the pistes after a long skiing day, you can experience skiing directly above the town of Zell am See in a completely different light on the Nightslope on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

The Ski ALPIN CARD is the key to three premium ski regions combined in one ski ticket: the Skicircus Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn, the Schmittenhöhe in Zell am See and the glacier ski resort of Kitzsteinhorn Kaprun offer fun on the pistes and skiing at the highest level. Enjoy the endless variety of mountain experiences with 408 kilometres of pistes, 121 lifts and cable cars and more with just one ski pass.

SKI TOURING

If you love ski touring, you'll get what your heart desires on the Ronachkopf in Thumersbach: a mountain reserved exclusively for snowshoe hikers and ski tourers, with a cosy hut where you can stop for a bite to eat.

The Maiskogel is also a perfect mountain for ski touring. Particularly suitable for beginners, unique evening tours can be enjoyed every Wednesday.

On the Kitzsteinhorn, special routes, a ski touring info point and a wide range of restaurants catering for endurance athletes follow the current trend. Routes such as "Schneekönigin" (Snow Queen) and "Eisbrecher" (Icebreaker) can be enjoyed as early as October. Another highlight for experienced ski tourers is the guided ski tour to the Tristkogel accompanied by a mountain guide. There is also a choice of various high alpine tours with guides in the Hohe Tauern National Park.

NORDIC & SNOWSHOE

To explore the mountains on foot in winter, you need good equipment and perfect infrastructure on site. Zell am See-Kaprun offers the best conditions for that with around 40 kilometres of cleared walking and winter hiking trails – whether around Lake Zell or on the surrounding sunny slopes on the Schmittenhöhe or in Thumersbach. The choice of scenic tours is wide and ranges from a short walk to an extensive hike. To explore the surrounding area, you can easily rent snowshoes on site.

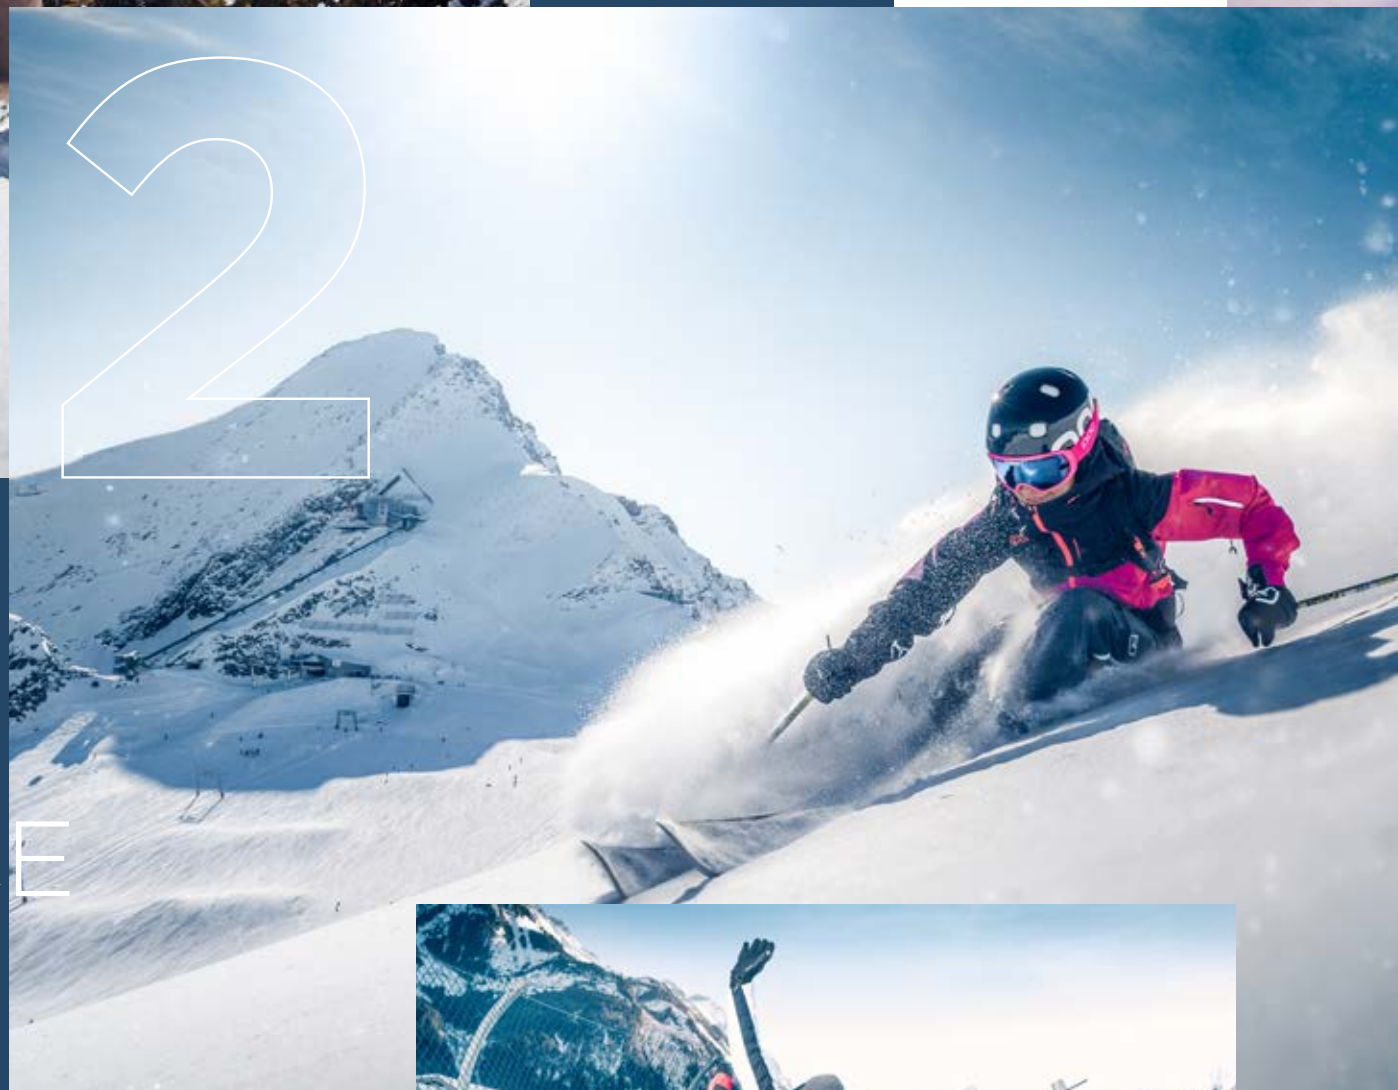

The winter landscape can also be experienced on cross-country skis in wonderful silence and in a particularly enjoyable way. The entire region is made accessible by a network of 107 kilometres of cross-country ski tracks, with leisurely tours and sporty routes through the wintry scenery of the Pinzgau. With its low difference in altitude, the Schlossloipe in Kaprun is especially popular with beginners and connoisseurs.

The glacier track on the Kitzsteinhorn at 2,900 metres above sea level is especially recommended for experienced cross-country skiers who are looking for sporty challenges combined with altitude training. The Brunnwiesloipe or the golf course cross-country ski track in Zell am See offer beautiful views of the Kitzsteinhorn glacier. And if you still haven't had enough in the evening, strap on your cross-country skis and enjoy your laps on the illuminated night track.

The Kaprun high mountain reservoirs are at the very back of the Kaprun valley. In the centre of the village, numerous hotels offer the ideal place for your relaxed active holiday.

The charming village of Kaprun, with its medieval Kaprun castle and the mighty glacier on the Kitzsteinhorn, was originally made famous by its mountain guides and pioneers. In 1828, the summit of the Kitzsteinhorn was climbed for the first time.

The pioneer Wilhelm Fazokas finally spotted an ideal area for skiing in the glacier. Four years after the construction of a cable car began, Austria's first summer ski resort opened in 1965.

Today, the world's most modern cable car, the 3K K-connection, takes you directly from the centre of the village of Kaprun via Maiskogel uphill to 3,029 metres, the highest point in Salzburg which is easily accessible for everyone.
